A long, dark linear bar fixture is suspended from a ceiling, featuring a series of cylindrical light shades. The fixture is composed of a dark, rectangular bar with several cylindrical light shades attached to its top surface. The shades are illuminated, casting a warm, yellowish glow. The fixture is suspended by a single black rod on the left and a pair of black rods on the right. The background shows a modern interior with a wooden ceiling, a grey wall, and a wooden shelving unit on the left. The lighting is soft and ambient, highlighting the texture of the materials and the sleek design of the fixture.
